

COUNT 1: FIRST-DEGREE MURDER

If the State proved the elements below beyond a reasonable doubt, check Yes. Otherwise, check No. If you answer Yes to Question Numbers 1, 2, and 3 check Guilty. Otherwise, check Not Guilty.

A reasonable doubt is a doubt that would cause a reasonably sensible person to hesitate before acting upon a matter of importance in his or her own affairs. A reasonable doubt must fairly arise from the evidence presented or the lack of evidence presented. A reasonable doubt must be a real doubt; it may not be an imagined one, nor may it be a doubt manufactured to avoid carrying out an unpleasant duty.
